November 1, 1922. Continuing on the above matter, Operative boarded a train at the Pennsylvania Railroad Station, and proceeded to New Brunswick, N. J.

Upon arrival at New Brunswick, N.J., Operative proceeded to the vicinity of George & Albany Sts, New Brunswick, N.J., and there learned that Mrs. Hall was going to grant the newspaper reporters an interview, and it was being arranged among them so that no outside picture men could get in.

After remaining about the vicinity of George & Albany Sts for a time, Operative proceeded to the vicinity of the Phillips' Farm .

While in the vicinity of Phillips Farm Operative learned that the place was known as a meeting place for several people, and for bootleggers, and that the Squatter could give valuable information concerning these people.

After being at the Phillips Farm for quite sometime, Operative then proceeded to the vicinity of George and Albany Sts, and upon arrival there noticed a number of reporters in the Telegraph Office. Operative likewise entered the Telegraph Office, and while in there under pretense, overheard in substance as follows:- That Mrs. Hall kept up and told her story very well, and answered all questions very well. Also that it was the intention of the reporters to disregard Mrs. Gibson's story altogether. It would seem that Willie is one of the men which Mrs. Gibson is going to pick out, as it is understood that he is very dark and needs a shave every day. Furthermore if Willie was to go without shaving for a couple of days his face would appear almost Black like a Negro's - One of the reporters having remarked, "Willie would have to shave twice a day in order to have a clean face."

Operative left the Telegraph Office, proceeded to the railroad station and remained there until about 10.30 p.m. and then discontinued.
